MORE GOOD WORK BY THE A. & M. COLLEGE.

Certainly there can be no complaining that the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College does not endeavor to fulfill to the capacity of its means and facilities the functions that pertain to such institutions. Not only does it teach the students who attend its regular sessions scientific agriculture in all its various branches; not only does it furnish thousands of bulletins on various matters of interest to those engaged in farming generally; not only does it answer many thousands of questions yearly propounded to it by farmers, stockmen, horticulturists, truck growers and others, and stand ready to answer still more; not only does it conduct a short course in agriculture summer and winter for the benefit of farmers generally, but it is now beginning to take the college to the farmer, so to speak. This is done by a still more effective method than that of the various agricultural trains that have been sent over the State by the railroads in co-operation with the college, although these are of great educational value and necessarily cover a great deal more territory than the new plan. The plan is to conduct short courses in agriculture for the benefit of the farmers and others who are not able to attend the short courses conducted at the college. These short courses will be conducted in several towns in various sections of the State in seventeen different counties. Professors from the college will have charge of the work. These short courses will not in any way interfere with the short course which will be held at College Station July 20-25.

The decision to carry on this work as extensively as possible this year was arrived at because of the success attending the one short course of this kind conducted at Mount Pleasant last year. It was gratifying to witness the appreciation and interest in that last experiment, and so this year eighteen schools of the kind are to be conducted. Prof. Ridgway, Burns Morgan and Evans are to conduct the various schools, and Prof. R. J. Poota, professor of highway engineering; O. M. Hall, professor of biology; Wilmon Newell, State entomologist; A. T. Potts and G. H. Blackmon of the agricultural department; J. A. Clutter of the dairy husbandry department; C. N. Kennedy, F. W. Bell and L. B. Burke of the animal husbandry department; E. E. Gee of the department of agronomy, and others will be instructors.

This will doubtless prove to be a very helpful work as one of the many activities of the A. & M. College.—Galveston News.

Carranza and his followers are about to set up a provisional government in Mexico with the temporary capital at Saltillo, and with Carranza as President. Such action would forestall the proposed action of the mediators in selecting a Provisional President and the establishment of a provisional government. Carranza and Villa being in control in Mexico, the mediators' man would have to fight his way in, and this fighting would evidently have to be done by the powers responsible for his appointment. A clash between the Constitutionalists and the United States is among the possibilities. The plot thickens.

The report that Huerta was preparing to flee was probably an error in transmission. What was meant may have been that he was preparing to feed.—Galveston News.

More likely the message was bailed and should have been that he was preparing to fill.

There is time yet to raise feed crops. June corn, peas and sorghum planted now will provide every farmer in the county with plenty of stock feed. You can kill a dog otherwise than choking him with butter, and there are plenty of things that will feed a horse or cow besides corn. Get out of the old rut and try it.

That politics makes strange bedfellows; behold the pair! Morris Shepherd, the peaceful, cooling Senator, and the warlike, fiery and bloodthirsty Richmond Pierson Hobson from the other end of the capitol. What a cataclysm of social and political upheaval to bring two such extremes together.

Three things go together—A. & M. College commencement, hot weather and roasting ears. The first two will arrive on schedule next Sunday, but the third will come up missing.

Roosevelt's determination not to surrender the Bull Moose party and keep the organization intact, insures the continuation of Democracy. Woodrow Wilson will succeed himself in 1916.

The conditions this year are extraordinary, making it more than ever necessary for the people of town and county to work to each other's interest.

LABOR NEWS AND NOTES.

Germany is said to fear a trade war with Russia.

Only 7.4 per cent of the territory of Italy is unproductive.

There is a prize of 20,000 offered in France for the discovery of a cure for Asiatic cholera.

Germany exports about 70 per cent of the toys it produces. The United States has been its best customer each year since 1905.

So rapidly have claims for lost time on account of sickness and injury been accumulating against the city of Pittsburgh under the Rauh act, that it has been decided by the city council to have a medical examination by the city physician in each case.

Although the United States has more cattle than any other country except India, it is the world's greatest importer of hides and skins.

The pig iron production of Belgium in 1913 amounted to 2,466,700 metric tons, as compared with 2,298,010 metric tons in 1912.

The Russian Department of Agriculture has appropriated the sum of $5,665 for the reorganization of the Moscow Museum of Agriculture, the first institution of its kind in Europe.

As a result of the labor trouble in Colorado, there has been a demand in many sections of the State for the resignation of Governor Ammons. It has been alleged that he is purely in sympathy with the money interests as against the miners.

It is stated that the Peruvian law regulating strikes, which has been in force since the beginning of the year, has proved highly satisfactory in eliminating heretofore frequent conflicts between capital and labor in that country.

The report of the department of health of Pittsburgh shows that among the diseases that the physicians of the city have had to treat during the past month were scarlet fever, measles, whooping cough, pneumonia, diphtheria and typhoid fever, all of which were suffered by the working class.

In one of the New York hotels a floor is arranged for the use of those who work at night and sleep during the day. The Sleepy Sixteen, as the floor is nicknamed, is run on an inverted timetable, with a separate staff, and its own restaurant, lift and telephone service. No one sleeping on this floor is called, except under special orders, until late in the day. Breakfast is served in the afternoon and the other meals are put back in the same way. All the routine work of cleaning and bedmaking is done after midnight.

A. & M. COMMENCEMENT IS BUT ONE WEEK AWAY

Elaborate Program Arranged, Covering Three Days.

Commencement exercises at the A. & M. College begin next Sunday with the commencement sermon by Rev. Henry Alford Porter, pastor of the Gaston Avenue Baptist Church, Dallas. Already commencement visitors are arriving at the college, and senior week, which begins today, will be a gay one in many respects.

Attendance records, in all probability, will be broken this year. Dallas alumni are planning to charter a special car, and the classes of '04 and '05 are expecting a full attendance at their reunions.

Military drills will constitute a feature of the commencement festivities. In the exhibition drills by battalions on Monday, June 8, one battalion will give the Butt manual of arms drill, another the catechisms which are executed each morning by the cadets, and the third will engage in a sharp skirmish in sham battle.

The program opens Sunday morning at 7:45 o'clock with guard mounting. At 8:30 quarters will be inspected. Dr. Porter will preach at 10:30. At 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon there will be a band concert, followed by an exhibition drill by the Ross Volunteers. At 8:30 o'clock Dr. J. Randolph Ray, rector of St. Andrew's parish, Bryan, will preach to the Y. M. C. A. workers.

Monday is Alumni Day.

Monday will be a feature of the morning, and, beginning at 9:30, the departments will be open for inspection. At 2:30 there will be a business meeting of the Alumni Association, and at 9 p. m. the annual banquet of the association will be held. Dress parade, at 6:30 p. m., will be a feature. In addition to the battalion drills at 5:30.

Commencement day exercises Tuesday will begin at 10 o'clock. Musical numbers will be given by the college band and by the glee club. Hon. W. L. Hill of Huntsville, a member of the Legislature, will deliver the commencement address. Diplomats will be presented by Hon. E. B. Cushing of Houston, president of the board of directors, while President Puryear will present the certificates to the two-year course graduates. V. V. Parr of Waelder will deliver the valedictory address. In the afternoon the competitive drill between companies for the Will Howell flag and graduation dress parade will be conducted. The exercises will close with the final ball, which will be given in the Bernard Shless mess hall.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY.

By CHARLES HENRY ADAMS.

Paris Safe for Our Girls.

New York, June 1.—"It is decidedly interesting to come back here after fourteen years' absence and see what splendid educational and philanthropic things American women are doing," said Mrs. Hugh R. Griffin, a delegate to the General Federation of Women's Clubs. "I feel that I want to get in touch with the spirit of life and work as much as possible, for the American women in Paris want me to tell them all about the work. We have been much interested in the discussions you have been having about the American students abroad. I cannot think that the criticisms of them are justified. In Paris the girls are looked after carefully in every possible way. There is no excuse, with all the clubs and the American church, for any girl to be lonely or unhappy or ill treated. Those who are looking for trouble can find it anywhere, I suppose, but it certainly does not seek them in Paris."

Sham Vices Terrorize United States.

According to Eugene Lamb Richards, America is suffering from a "chronic epidemic" of sham vices and sham alarms. Mr. Richards is State Bank Superintendent, and recently addressed a meeting of the New York Savings Banks Association. He called alarmists "artists in buncombe," and said wise men had become afraid of the dark and of bugaboos. He added, "It is high time the real men of the State and city took an active interest in public affairs, an active interest in practical but clean politics. My department is the natural enemy of the shams and frauds and the friend of prosperity. If you will work with me and co-operate with me, I honestly believe that in a few years we shall have tangible results in the restoration of public utility, public confidence and public credit in this, our great Empire State."

Healthy Pupils? Not Puny Bookworms.

There is no more enthusiastic worker in the playground campaign for the children of Greater New York than Thomas W. Churchill, president of the board of education. "A bird shut in a cage and a child deprived of a proper place to play are equally pitiable objects. If we can't give the children grass playgrounds we ought to give them asphalt playgrounds. If we can't put parks in the crowded sections, we ought to prohibit traffic in the most congested quarters during certain hours of the day and turn the streets over to the children," said President Churchill. "To my mind the three most important things in the world are, first, morality, second, health, and only third, education. A plentitude of rosy cheeks is more valuable than an encyclopaedia. We don't want pallid, sickly bookworms. When a boy has hours of study and hours of baseball he is so dead sleepy at night he goes home and goes to bed." Mr. Churchill declared, wisely, "He has no inclination to stand around the corner, and he is not the material of which gangs are made." And from a purely business standpoint might not New York find it cheaper to prevent gangs than to prosecute them? Playgrounds are really less expensive than prisons and processes at law.

"BEATING THE BOLL WEevil TO IT"

New Scheme to Fight Weevil—Something Like Pipe Dream.

[By Associated Press]

San Antonio, Tex., June 1.—This month a scientific experiment in "beating the boll weevil to it" is planned to be made on some cotton farm near here. The cotton bolls will be gathered when only 50 to 60 per cent mature. Then their maturing will be completed by artificial means. The further claim is made that this after picking process of maturing is so rapid that cotton can be produced for the market in June which ordinarily would not be ready until one or two months later. Under the process the bolls are cut from the stalks with a knife, gathered in sacks and then dipped in a chemical which it is called will produce the artificial maturation. The idea is to obtain the cotton before the boll weevils have time to do it much damage. Whether cotton, if it can be matured on a profitable commercial basis in this manner, will retain its present textile strength and value, is among the questions awaiting demonstration. John B. Carrington of the Chamber of Commerce here is making the local plans for the experiment, which will be conducted by a Philadelphia organization.

SUNSET-CENTRAL LINES OFFER PRIZES TO FARMERS

The Southern Railway and Sunset-Central Lines, always a strong factor in the development of the territory along its several lines in Texas and Louisiana, has created a decidedly novel innovation in its relations with the farmers generally in the territory traversed by its several divisions.

As a stimulus to a higher and more productive method as applied to the cultivation of cotton and corn, the lines in question, through its industrial department, will offer a series of prizes to the farmers making the best records in cultivation and production of the two staples and also to the boy or girl making the best record in the same crops under the rules of the cotton and corn clubs.

The prizes will be offered as follows:

"For the best general field of corn of not less than ten acres, making the greatest production and showing the best system of cultivation, one thoroughbred shorthorn sire.

For the second best field, under the same conditions, one thoroughbred mature Duroc-Jersey boar.

For the best general field of cotton of not less than ten acres, showing the best production and best method of cultivation, one thoroughbred Jersey, Guernsey or Holstein sire.

For the second best general field of cotton under the same conditions, one thoroughbred mature Berkshire boar.

For the boy or girl making the best corn production under the boys' and girls' corn and cotton club rules, a thoroughbred Jersey heifer not more than two years old.

For the boy or girl making the best production of cotton under the same rules, one Jersey heifer not more than two years old.

It is proposed that the farmers and others desiring to compete for these prizes shall make application to the farm supervisors representing jointly the county and Federal Department of Agriculture, in each county. Proper blanks will be placed in the hands of those demonstrators, and it is intended that the entire contest shall be under the direction of Prof. W. F. Proctor, State Agent of the Federal Department of Agriculture for the State of Texas, and Prof. Mason Snowden, State agent for the department for the State of Louisiana, and it is the intention that the awarding of the prizes shall be under the supervision of these gentlemen or their direct representatives.

"Of course the contest will be limited to farmers and others living along the lines of or within the territory tributary to the Sunset-Central Lines in the two States.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Astin left yesterday for New York City, whence they will sail on June 6 for Europe to spend the summer touring countries and places of interest. Several of their friends were at the station to see them off and wish for them a pleasant trip and safe return.

Attend the organ recital at 8:30 this evening at St. Andrew's Church. The recital is given under the auspices of the Altar Guild. No admission fee, but a free will offering will be taken. The recital is given by Mr. Addison Harmon Briscoe and is his last appearance as a recitalist in Bryan, as he leaves for his vacation Wednesday. He will be assisted by Miss Louise Caldwell, soprano; Bryan's well known organists, Mesdames Webb and Boatwright, while Mr. Edward Hollick of College will contribute violin and trombone numbers.

REV. GARDNER AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Gardner of Fort Worth filled the pulpit of the First Baptist Church yesterday at the morning and evening services. He is a young man of much earnestness and speaks in a direct, concise manner. His sermons were both short, but contained many great scripture lessons and truths.
